Fiction Author Spotlight: Harry Turtledove

This fictional master of "What If" is best known for his elaborate tales of "alternative history" – stories, inspired by the past, which creatively explore the implications and effects of historic events playing out differently than they actually did. His most popular titles and series include:

After the Downfall
Days of Infamy (series)
Great War (series)
Ruled Britannia
Supervolcano (series)

Turtledove's latest novel, Armistice, concludes his Hot War trilogy "as the Cold War becomes a roaring inferno."

July 2017 Nonfiction Highlights...

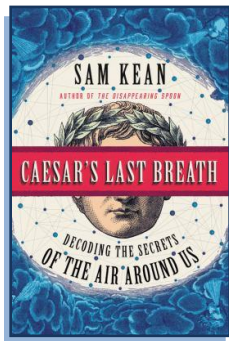

The Streak
by John Eisenberg
“The fascinating story of baseball’s legendary ‘Ironmen,’ two players from different eras who each achieved the coveted and sometimes confounding record of most consecutive games played.”

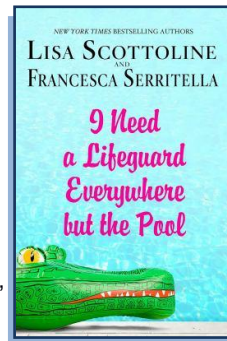

An Inconvenient Sequel: Truth to Power
by Al Gore
“A daring call to action, exposing the reality of how humankind has aided in the destruction of our planet and groundbreaking information on what you can do now.”

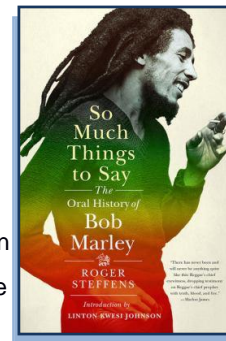

Sons and Soldiers
by Bruce Henderson
“The little-known saga of young German Jews, dubbed The Ritchie Boys, who fled Nazi Germany in the 1930s, came of age in America, and returned to Europe at enormous personal risk as members of the U.S. Army to play a key role in the Allied victory.”

Caesar's Last Breath
by Sam Kean
“Kean takes us on a journey through the periodic table, around the globe, and across time to tell the story of the air we breathe, which, it turns out, is also the story of Earth and our existence on it.”

I Need a Lifeguard Everywhere But the Pool
by Lisa Scottoline & Francesca Serritella
“The bestselling and ‘perennially hilarious’ mother-daughter team is back with a new collection of stories from their real lives, guaranteed to make you laugh out loud.”

So Much Things to Say: The Oral History of Bob Marley
by Roger Steffens
“This magisterial work preserves an invaluable, transformative slice of music history: the life of the legendary performer who brought reggae to the international stage.”

Nonfiction Author Spotlight: Bill Nye

Bill Nye “the Science Guy” is often to be found in various media venues exploring scientific phenomena and debates such as climate change or evolution. He has also written some popular books:

Undeniable: Evolution and the Science of Creation

Unstoppable: Harnessing Science to Change the World

Bill’s latest book is Everything All at Once: How to Unleash Your Inner Nerd, Tap into Radical Curiosity and Solve Any Problem, which playfully suggests, “thinking like a nerd is the key to changing yourself and the world around you.”
