New Fiction Highlights...

The Terranauts

by T.C. Boyle

"Told through three distinct narrators... The Terranauts brings to life an electrifying, pressured world in which connected lives are uncontrollably pushed to the breaking point."

Small Great Things

by Jodi Picoult

"With incredible empathy, intelligence, and candor, Jodi Picoult tackles race, privilege, prejudice, justice, and compassion and doesn't offer easy answers."

Do Not Say We Have Nothing

by Madeleine Thien

"With maturity and sophistication, humor and beauty, Thien has crafted a novel that is at once intimate and grandly political, rooted in the details of life inside China yet transcendent in its universality."

New Nonfiction Highlights...

City of Dreams

by Tyler Anbinder
 “City of Dreams provides a vivid sense of what New York looked like, sounded like, smelled like, and felt like over the centuries of its development and maturation into the city we know today.”

Not Dead Yet

by Phil Collins
 “Phil Collins pulls no punches – about himself, his life, or the ecstasy and heartbreak that’s inspired his music.”

The Earth Is Weeping

by Peter Cozzens
 “ In an exploration of the wars and negotiations that destroyed tribal ways of life even as they made possible the emergence of the modern United States, Peter Cozzens gives us both sides in comprehensive and singularly intimate detail..”

My Own Words

by Ruth Bader Ginsburg
 “A witty, engaging, serious, and playful collection of writings and speeches from the woman who has had a powerful and enduring influence on law, women’s rights, and popular culture.”

Traveling Soul: The Life of Curtis Mayfield

by Todd Mayfield
 “Todd Mayfield tells his famously private father’s story in riveting detail. Passionate, illuminating, vivid, and absorbing.”

The Pope of Physics

by Gino Segre
 “An examination of the human dramas that touched [Enrico] Fermi’s life as well as a thrilling history of scientific innovation in the twentieth century, this is the comprehensive biography that Fermi deserves.”

Nonfiction Author Spotlight: Mary Oliver

Foremost recognized as a preeminent contemporary American poet (awarded a Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award), Oliver illuminates the natural world through accessible yet insightful verse as well as essays often included with her poetry. She is also appreciated for her nonfiction advancing an awareness of poetry:

A Poetry Handbook

Rules for the Dance: A Handbook for Writing and Reading Metrical Verse

Her latest book, Upstream, is described as “a collection of essays in which beloved poet Mary Oliver reflects on her willingness, as a young child and as an adult, to lose herself within the beauty and mysteries of both the natural world and the world of literature.”
