What's New & Interesting at Middletown Thrall Library!

May 2011 Issue

"To see a world in a grain of sand..." – William Blake

From Matt Pfisterer Director of Middletown Thrall Library

Here at the Library our wonderful staff, and professional librarians, have always been committed to providing outstanding library services to our community. Library statistics from our 2010 Annual report to the State show that for 2010 library users:

- Borrowed 261,819 total items
- Borrowed 82,042 children's items
- Answered 30,386 reference questions
- Added 31,534 items to our collection
- Provided 244 Children's Young Adult and Adult Programs
- Thrall Library's website was visited 2,615,829 times!

These numbers show that for 2010 the Library experienced increased usage. Our challenge is to maintain our high level of customer service while consistently meeting or exceeding the needs of our Library users. This is our goal, and I am confident that you will find that we are up to the task.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at the Library with questions or suggestions about how we can improve your experiences at the Library.

A Fond Farewell

We will be wishing a fond farewell to one of our professional librarians, Barbara Chumard, who has announced that she will be retiring at the end of June. Barbara has had a distinguished career at the Library during which she has been involved with various aspects of Library operations including: publicity, circulation desk, reference, interlibrary loans, and adult programming on and off since 1973. After earning her Masters Degree in Library Science in 1996, Barbara became the Library's full-time Adult Programmer and a Reference Librarian. Some of the most significant contributions she made to the success of the Library include innovative programs like the "Reel Eclectic" independent and international film series, (continued)

"Afternoon Movies for Grown-Ups," and our ongoing book discussion series. Barbara has also obtained several grants which have brought exhibits featuring George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Alexander Hamilton and Benjamin Franklin to the Library. Barbara also managed the distribution of State and Federal Tax forms to the public, and she went to great pains, including lifting, stacking, and rummaging through endless boxes of tax forms to make sure that they were available to the public.

Although I have only had the pleasure of working with Barbara for a few short months, I have been impressed with her seemingly boundless energy, can do attitude, grace under pressure, and absolute dedication to meeting the varied needs of Library users at the reference desk or in planning and managing quality library programs for adults.

Barbara, I would like to extend the thanks of the Board of Trustees, staff, and Friends of the Thrall Middletown Library for your many years of valuable service, and we wish you a happy, healthy, and fulfilling retirement. You will be missed.

From Our Head of Reference Mary Susan Flannery Climes

Poetry Resources & Guide www.thrall.org/literature

In honor of National Poetry Month (April), we expanded our Literature guide to include a number of new poetry resources available on the Internet and within the library system.

In addition to websites, you can explore famous poets and poems as well as select poetry anthologies within the library catalog.

To begin browsing, please go to the link above (or go to our home page at www.thrall.org and select Literature from our list of Web Guides). From there, select either the "Poetry in the Library Catalog" or "Poetry" (Literature on the Web) option from the menu.

We also created a concise guide to notable poets and poetry. Free copies of "Looking for: Poetry" are available at the library (near the adult library catalog computers) and online at our Thrall Publications page (in the Reference Services and Research section at www.thrall.org/docs).

Seen the Movie? Now Read the Book!

We expanded our library catalog video browser to include titles of books made into movies.

From literary classics (such as the novels of Jane Austen) to modern adaptations of contemporary works of fiction (such as Atonement or The Time Traveler's Wife), there are many titles you can quickly locate or request in the library catalog.

Book titles are arranged in two sections: For the Entire Family and For Adult Audiences. Some books have more than one edition, and audio books may be available as well.

We also have a printed Movies Inspired by Books flyer available at the library (which can also be downloaded from our website – see Movie Guides at www.thrall.org/docs)

Our online video browser now also features titles of notable New Releases starting with January 2011. You can easily and instantly check on (and try to reserve) these or other titles listed in our video browser within a couple of clicks!
