Author Spotlight: Elizabeth Strout

This Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist and short story writer explores friendship, family, and the challenges of life in small towns in memorable and provocative ways. Her titles include:

Abide with Me
Amy and Isabelle
The Burgess Boys
My Name Is Lucy Barton
Olive Kitteridge

Strout's latest work is described as follows: “Recalling Olive Kitteridge in its richness, structure, and complexity, Anything Is Possible explores the whole range of human emotion through the intimate dramas of people struggling to understand themselves and others.”

April 2017 Nonfiction Highlights...

The Fifth Trimester
by Lauren Brody
“A brilliant, tells-it-like-it-is guide that helps moms cope with the demands of the real world after the baby arrives.”

Hallelujah Anyway
by Anne Lamott
“From the bestselling author of Help, Thanks, Wow and Stitches comes a powerful exploration of mercy, its limitless (if sometimes hidden) presence, why we ignore it, and how we can embrace it.”

Not a Scientist: How Politicians Mistake, Misrepresent, and Utterly Mangle Science
by Dave Levitan
“His sharp-elbowed humor dismantles our leaders' deceptive arguments while illuminating the real science behind the worst soundbites from our elected non-scientists.”

The American Spirit
by David McCullough
“A timely collection of speeches by David McCullough, the most honored historian in the United States—winner of two Pulitzer Prizes, two National Book Awards, and the Presidential Medal of Freedom, among many others --that reminds us of fundamental American principles.”

My Cubs
by Scott Simon
“NPR's Scott Simon's personal, heartfelt reflections on his beloved Chicago Cubs, replete with club lore, memorable anecdotes, frenetic fandom and wise and adoring intimacy that have made the world champion Cubbies baseball's most tortured--and now triumphant--franchise.”

Letterman
by Jason Zinoman
“New York Times comedy critic Jason Zinoman delivers the definitive story of the life and artistic legacy of David Letterman, the greatest television talk show host of all time and the signature comedic voice of a generation.”

Nonfiction Author Spotlight: John Gierach

Sometimes the most refreshing and enjoyable books turn out to be the ones we might, at first, be least inclined to read. Case in point: John Gierach writes about fly-fishing. Now, if you do fish, know someone who does, or if you're somewhat of an “outdoors enthusiast,” his latest book, A Fly Rod of Your Own might seem an altogether likely choice. If, however, you know (or care) little about fishing, you still might try giving this author a chance: known for his wit, his unquestionable passion and insights on the topic, John could pleasantly surprise you in proving just how much “a book on fishing” has to say not only about the sport but on life itself.

A number of John's works can be found throughout the library system. His most popular titles include:

All Fisherman Are Liars
No Shortage of Good Days
