desirous of applying the principles of Hahnemannian school of medicine to the cure and relief of the insane, endeavored to raise money by subscription for a private asylum. To this end about $75,000 was subscribed and $50,000 actually paid in.

With this sum a farm of about 200 acres, located a mile west of this city was purchased, a plan determined upon, and the foundation walls begun. Finally an appeal for funds wherewith to complete the institution was made to the State Legislature and in 1870 it became a duly incorporated institution, designated as the "State Homeopathic Asylum for the Insane at Middletown."

The law provided that there should be 21 trustees and Dr. J. Draper, Hon. E. P. Wheeler, Daniel Thompson and Hon. H. R. Low, of this city; Fletcher Harper, Jr., P. S. Hoe, D. D., T. Marshall, Salem H. Wales, Dr. T. F. Allen, Dr. E. H. Kellogg, Dr. John F. Gray, all of New York city; Hon. Grinnell Burt and J. Cowdry, of Warwick, Dr. D. C. Jayne, of Florida; Dr. J. Ostrom, of Goshen; Hon. James G. Graham, of Newburgh; Dr. E. D. Jones and Dr. H. M. Paine, of Albany; Dr. W. H. Watson, of Utica, and Hon. A. B. Conger, of Haverstraw, constituted the first board of trustees.

The original plan of the asylum contemplated a main or administrative building, four pavilion buildings, two on either side of the central edifice and connected therewith by corridors, and a boiler and laundry houses. The main or administrative building was in readiness for the reception of patients on April 20, 1874, and the first patient was received May 1, 1874.

Dr. H. R. Low, president, and Dr. J. Ostrom, secretary, were the first to arrive.

tion of the working forces of an active institution and required ability of the highest order.

Main Building Wrecked.

The buildings completed during Dr. Stiles' administration were the main or administrative building and pavilion No. 1, the former of which is the building which flames of this morning destroyed. It was 175 feet long by 62 feet deep and four stories high exclusive of attic and basement, each floor affording an area of 12,000 feet.

Its architecture was of Rhenish style and combined the appearance of strength with a certain lightness and cheerfulness of effect. The brick was of the best, with Ohio stone dressing. In the construction of this building the greatest pains were taken to make it fire-proof, and its interior finish, in every respect of detail, was most admirable both as to design, material and workmanship.

Board is Reduced.

In 1875 the Board of Trustees was reduced from 21 members to 13, as follows: Fletcher Harper, Jr., Dr. Egbert Guernsey, Hon. Grinnell Burt, Dr. Joshua Draper, Hon. Nathaniel W. Vail, Uzal T. Hayes, James B. Hulsey, James H. Norton, Hon. Moses D. Stivers, Hon. James G. Graham, Daniel Thompson, Dr. H. M. Paine and Dr. William H. Watson. Drs. Paine and Watson especially were of great assistance to the institution in securing the enactment of legislation for its construction and support. This board appointed Dr. S. H. Talcott to succeed Dr. Stiles upon the latter's resignation on February 9, 1877. Dr. Talcott came to this city from New York city, where he had served until April 24, 1877, as medical officer of the Soldiers' Retreat, medical superintendent of the New York City Asylum for Inebriates and chief of staff of the Homeopathic Hospital on Ward's Island.

Dr. Talcott came to this city in 1877. He was not long in becoming acquainted with the people of the city and the work of the institution. He was a man of high character and ability, and his administration was marked by efficiency and economy.

A staff house and a cottage for the first assistant physician were also completed in 1910. Some of the cottages for patients have been removed to new and better sites, many of the plants have been enlarged, a new power house built, 260 additional acres of land purchased and a farm colony for men, established about a mile distant from the main institution.

The total number of patients under treatment during the past year, ending June 30, 1921, was 2,464, divided among 909 men and 1,555 women. The daily average opulation, including paroles was 792.6 men and 1,399 women, for a total of 2,191.6. The rated capacity of the institution was 1,870. The number of patients on the books June 30, 1921, was 1,870.

who have neglected their own business in order to serve their city. But even they could not devote all of their time to the city, nor was it fair to ask of them as much as they gave.

"The result has always been under our former system of city government, that the affairs of the city have been left largely in charge of subordinate employees, without the constant supervision of any responsible city official.

"A City Manager solves this problem perfectly. The City Council acts as a Board of Directors does in the case of an ordinary corporation, and the City Manager as the General Manager of the business.

"Certainly, the business of a city of the size of Middletown is sufficiently extensive and important to warrant the constant supervision of a competent and responsible official. No private business would think of attempting to operate otherwise.

"Plan C may not be the last word in municipal government, but in my opinion, is the best plan yet proposed.

"Yours very truly,
"GRAHAM WITSCHIEF."

Fox in Attack On Man; Is Shot

Bloomington, Oct. 18 (Special)—Gordon Schwab shot a large fox last week at his home on North street. The fox was seen prowling around the Schwab home and was evidently hungry as he had entered the chicken house and was carrying one away, when Mr. Vreeland, who is a guest at the Schwab home, tried to frighten the fox away. The latter showed fight and was attacking Vreeland, when young Schwab appeared on the scene with a shot gun, ending the career of the unwelcome visitor, which was one of the largest killed here in some time.

"On entering," he stated, "I found the fire blazing in the left end of the building. I came downstairs and notified Dr. Ashley and then notified the power house. They sounded the siren and a few minutes later the first city alarm was sounded."

"When the fire call was sounded the patients, excepting a score who were unable to walk, and who were carried out by the firemen, aided by the police and volunteers from

Here Is Good News

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription is HEM-ROID, a small tablet that is now sold by druggists generally. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success.

the spectators, formed in line as if for fire drill and walked calmly down the fire escapes at the rear of the burning building. After all had been removed from the building we turned our attention to the contents of the offices removing everything safely."

TERROR GRIPS ALL.

As the women patients were being hurried into their clothes the big siren at the engine house began to sound and terror gripped everyone within hearing except those who were helping the patients to safety. There was no turmoil among the insane and they seemed to be dazed. Women nurses, assisted by male attendants who had arrived by this time, began herding the crazed inmates down the stairs. A score or more of those who were unable to walk were carried out. All these patients were taken to the next building in the rear. Those women who were partly clothed were taken out on the lawns and seated on benches with a cordon of attendants surrounding them.

ALARM SOUNDED.

At the alarm

J. Blaine Worcester in the latter's automobile was assisting in the removal of patients.

At this time the fire had not broken through the roof. It started in the attic of the left wing of the main building known as Talcott Hall, and was caused apparently by crossed electric wires.

FIRE IN ATTIC.

In the left wing on the first floor were part of the executive offices. On the second, third and fourth floors were second, third and fourth wards in which only women patients were housed.

There was a small tower over this section of the building and the fire made its first exit through the roof at this point. The flames seemed to run through the attic and at 1:20 attacked the main tower in the center of the main building.

With these two towers flaming arcs of fire the blaze assumed spectacular features and could be seen from all sections of the city. Those persons who clothing that necessary to cover them. Most of them wore only under clothes, trousers and shoes.

With the main building emptied attention was paid to the nearer buildings housing patients. When it was seen that Talcott Hall was doomed and that there was danger of other buildings catching fire the patients who had been aroused and dressed were marshalled in a line and led out to the lawns where they were guarded chiefly by women attendants as the men were all engaged either with the patients or with the fire.

The blaze resembled greatly the fire that destroyed the State capitol at Albany several years ago.

RETARDS FLAMES.

The fact that the floors were of stone construction laid over the old, original wooden material, retarded the downward route of the flames. Time after time, the hundreds who shivered slightly in the early chill tempered with the danger of the fire.

side and hung threateningly over the edge.

On the roof below other fighters scrambled madly to safety. It was pure folly to have been in the position they were, but none was hurt and, while for a long time afterward their place was one of danger, the slackening of the blaze put them in a comparatively safe place.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Advertisement.

CITY EN MASSE.

No greater throngs of the city's populace have been attracted to a blaze since the disastrous piano factory fire of more than a decade ago and the Tompkins conflagration of the winter of two and one-half years ago. The overcast sky of early morning reflected in startling manner the red of the roaring furnace, causing hundreds to leap out of bed, jump into their clothing and race toward the blaze. Their first speed was intensified by the reports current that more than the main building was threatened.

Fred E. Vance, local auctioneer, principal in many court cases, is in the toils again. This afternoon he is reposing in cell No. 5 of the city jail with one charge definitely against him and a possible second facing him.

Vance was arrested this morning by Officers Robert A. LeClerc and Percival Bennett, after local police for three days had awaited his return for jumping his bail bond of $2,500, in connection with his appeal from a conviction on the charge of receiving stolen goods from the railroad.

Vance's bondsmen were Edward Forshay, of Westtown, and Elmer R. Sutherland, of 102 Beacon street. When Vance three days ago left this city, Mr. Forshay and Mr. Sutherland surrendered the bond and Vance was immediately liable to arrest.

Today he appeared at the Sutherland home. He persuaded Mrs. Sutherland, police say, to send to his second wife a telegram saying he was ill. His wife, accompanied by her father, Samuel G. Williams, of Mills avenue, went to the Sutherland home.

Here, it is alleged, Vance tried to have his wife remain with him. Her father appeared and he threatened him, police say. It was then that Mr. Williams went to police and asked for a warrant for Vance's arrest on the charge of threatening him. This gave police the information as to Vance's whereabouts and his arrest followed.

Whether or not Mr. Williams will push his complaint against him had not been decided this afternoon.

ed with the Walden Knife Company and went daily to his work until about two years ago when he suffered a stroke which finally resulted in his death Friday. Deceased was a member of Freeman's Lodge of Odd Fellows for over 50 years and was an honorary member of the Enterprise Steamer Company. Mr. Jordon is survived by one daughter, Julia, who is connected with the school faculty of Yonkers. He was preceded in death by his wife several months ago.

Birdsey Young.

Bloomington, Oct. 18—The obsequies of the late Birdsey Young were held Monday afternoon, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Ellis, at Bullville, and were largely attended by friends and neighbors.

The services were in charge of the Rev. R. A. Greenwall, of Dobbs Ferry, and the following acted as pallbearers: J. F. Bennett, Samuel D. Robertson, John Miller, John Cooper, Frank McKinney and Harry Crawford.

Interment was in the Bullville cemetery under direction of W. W. VanInwegen.

Herman Karsten.

Montgomery, Oct. 18—The funeral of Herman Karsten was held at his late home, in the Kaisertown section, on Monday, and was attended by a large concourse of people, who followed the casket to the Brick Church cemetery, the last resting place of a man they most highly respected in life. Cancer of the stomach was the cause of demise. He was about 58 years of age. He was a successful farmer. He is survived by his wife and several children.

Moses B. Eaton.

The funeral of Moses Beebe Eaton was held this afternoon at the home, 17 Knapp avenue, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Forest P. Hunter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated.

Friends of the family acted as pallbearers. Interment was in Walkill cemetery.

Patients in West Wing.

Main building patients are occupying the recently completed west wing of the new department of the East Group.

There are no furnishings in the building, but that is as nothing compared to the fact of shelter being provided. There is ample room for all of the Main Building patients who were dispossessed by fire.

POLICE PROTECTION.

Police protection was at all times adequate and the force rose to the occasion in excellent form. Sergeant John Gier, at the desk, immediately communicated with the day officers, when the fire proportions were realized, and a plan was laid to protect homes in the city.

Chief John D. McCoach and Officer Harry L. Wood were among the first at the scene of the fire and aided in getting the women patients to safety. Other officers of the day force were occupied at the scene of the blaze.

One of the peculiar features of the fire was the fact that a large fern in a room on the third floor, directly under

FEEL FREEMEN.

In addition to the regular morning meal for the patients, the cooking staff of the hospital fed the firemen shortly after 8 o'clock.

The embers from the burned timber were hardly cool before work on clearing away the debris was begun by employees.

Temporary offices were established in Pavilion No. 2 at the left of the destroyed structure. Early this morning Dr. M. C. Ashley, the superintendent, said that things at the hospital would be functioning near normal by noon.

Extra Daisee Gold

We are awarding an extra prize to Fred Simonton, 182 Jasper St., Paterson, N. J., for two sketches he submitted in our Daisee Gold contest; both beautiful pieces of work, and while it did not answer exactly our advertisement, we feel he has gone to so much trouble he is worthy of a prize, particularly as we are informed that Mr. Simonton has been confined to his bed for a long time and does this work in a reclining position.

The work is wonderfully done, the wording is great, and we recommend anyone interested in sketch work to give this party an opportunity to prove his talent.

TO PUT ON SOLID FLESH

What to eat to put vitamins in your system, increase your weight and make you strong. Scientists tell how vitamin-containing vegetables, such as lettuce, spinach and apples, build weight and strength.

You cannot possess a fine figure, elegant appearance, have good color and be strong and robust-looking without plenty of vitamins in your system and your blood and system as nature intended you should do, then you should eat plenty of vitamin-containing foods, such as lettuce, spinach and apples and assist them from time to time with your meals with a little harmless, palatable "MEDIC-YEEST," which is rich in firm flesh-building vitamins like the vitamins in your blood itself and like the vitamins the cow, ox and horse get in the green grass at pasture. You know what the little blade of grass with its vitamins means to one of these creatures in flesh and strength, just so much nature's vitamins in MEDIC-YEEST means to you. When you find yourself thin, pale, skinny and ugly-looking, do not wait, but take some MEDIC-YEEST regularly, increase your weight to normal with solid, firm, stay-there tissue and flesh, which you will feed the shrunken tissues and aid nature in making you strong, well and fully developed. You owe it to yourself to make this simple test: Weigh and measure yourself. Next take MEDIC-YEEST with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week. The scales, mirror and tape measure won't deceive you. When you are satisfied with your gain in weight, energy and strength tell your friends about MEDIC-YEEST Tonic Tablets and what they will do for them. MEDIC-YEEST should not be taken by anyone who objects to having their weight increase to normal.

fire alarm front of the turned in an alarm. Just before this Chief Higham was notified by telephone.

The call of 72, which everyone knows is the State Hospital box, aroused the entire city and as it was immediately followed by the chief's 2-2-2 the excitement in town became intense.

Chief Higham realized that he had a very serious conflagration to cope with and at once sent a telephone call to Goshen and Florida and before 2 o'clock Dikeman and Cataract Hose companies of Goshen were on the scene. The alarm when turned in at Goshen could plainly be heard in this city.

Within 10 minutes after the State Hospital siren sounded a Times-Press reporter who was taken to the scene by from Goshen and from nearby points, and there was a line of parked cars on Monhagen avenue and West Main street from the hospital to the power house of the lighting company.

With the patients in the main building removed to safety the hospital employees turned their attention to saving the records of the institution housed in the main offices. Everything of value was gotten out.

By this time the entire upper part of the main building was in flames. There was not a breath of air and the flames shot straight upward. It was due to this fact that an awful catastrophe is not recorded today. Had there been a strong wind blowing the fire would quickly have communicated with the adjoining buildings. This would surely have taken place to the right of the main building, because here there is a connecting link of wooden structure which also connects with the library.

However, with the falling of the two towers great clouds of sparks shot up a hundred feet in the air and fell in showers on the roofs of the adjoining buildings.

Guards were stationed on each building, and while great chunks of flaming wood clung to the roofs, no other building ignited.

When the State Hospital siren sounded the employees rushed to their posts just as though it were fire drill. Most of them realized that it was no mere fire drill and they did not wait to put on any more of the big was the patients. There were some flaming at the windows of the adjoining buildings just as the fire broke through the roof, but this was only for an instant and when the patients were huddled in groups on the lawns and at the baseball diamond they sat as though in a stupor.

With the attic burned off there was a level sea of fire across the entire top of the main building. Momentarily a section of the roof would fall into the vortex and a column of flames and sparks spurt up. Blazing cornices fell to the ground and the firemen were in great danger all the while.

When it was found only one stream of water could reach the top of the building Chief Higham ordered several lines of hose run through the main entrance and in this way the fire was attacked from below.

The water pressure, however, was so light that little could be done to save the building. When the big steamer from McQuoids' engine house arrived at the main entrance two other good streams were added and then the fire was brought under control. This was at 2:30 and all danger of other buildings taking fire was past.

By this time the flames had eaten their way downward in spots through the fourth and third floors to the second floor.

One of the interested spectators of the fire was Fred S. McWilliams, whose father, Edward McWilliams, back in 1872-1874 had charge of the construction of the building.

The population of the State Hospital at this time is about on held. Only such as coping wooden or tin parts of main portion of the building would fall, showering sparks in every direction.

FIREMEN IN PERIL.

An hour after the blaze started and after it was evident that the fury of the fire was surely spending its force, firemen began operations on the floor directly beneath that on which the blaze was still burning steadily. In the light of a brightly burning electric lamp, partially screened from the curious watchers by the smoke which hung closely about the building, a handful of men were endangered when the wall on the third story above them toppled, fell on its

the grounds, fast antics and capers here and there all the ferocity of an animal at bay and in other points burning merrily along the window sills and upper rims of the brickwork.

Two corridors at either end of the building, with resultant drafts, stimulated the flames, and through the glass windows nearby watchers could see the flames, creep down only to be checked by the composition flooring.

At 9:30 a. m. the fire was still blazing fiercely and had eaten its way down into the first floor.

When Mr. Jones was saved from the frying pan —

They talk yet of the change that came over Jones. Some said it was psychology. Some said it was a miracle. All said it was a mystery.

When they asked Jones, he said it was liberation from slavery—slavery to the frying pan, and to grease and starch.

Jones used to take his breakfast fried, and followed this with a heavy lunch.

In those days they said at the office: "Old Jones has a secret sorrow and he's sore on the world."

One day Jones started late—no time for the usual breakfast to be cooked.

Jones had a breakfast on Grape-Nuts with good cream. He was delighted with the crispness and rich flavor. Felt satisfied and "fed." Tried it again at lunch. Kept on breakfasting that way—often lunching, too.

Jones began to "perk up," talk up, step up—GET up.

"Let Jones show you how to do this," they began to say at the office.

As to Jones—he said: "That's a great food—GRAPE-NUTS."

There are thousands of Joneses, both kinds—reckless feeders and wise feeders.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

At the close of the fiscal year ending September 30, 1889, there were in the institution about 514 patients. Annex No. 1 was erected, after an appropriation was secured.

Dr. Talcott in 1888 established a training school, and each year many skilled nurses have been graduated from the institution.

In August, 1889, the institution received $2,959.11 from the executors of the last will and testament of Miss Leonora S. Bolles, of Garden City,
Queens county, New York, and with
this money a library hall was erected
and named "The Leonora S. Bolles Memorial Library." It is a one-story structure, designed in imitation of the Greek Parthenon. It is available to both patients and employees.

In 1889 the State Commission in Lunacy was created and the Commission assumed most of the duties and functions formerly belonging to the Board of Trustees. The name of the institution was changed to the "Middletown State Homeopathic Hospital." Soon after the patient population was swelled by the reception of patients
from the almshouses of this hospital
district, and the next year an appropriation of $110,000 was made for buildings to accommodate the increased numbers. With this money Talcott Hall and Annex No. 2 were built.

Two cottages for women convalescent patients were erected in 1891. They were of wood and accommodated 70
patients. Two homes for nurses were begun in 1893, and in the following year these buildings were completed
and occupied. The removal of the attendants and nurses from the wards
increased the capacity for patients by
64. In 1901 a cold storage building
was erected. This was of brick, with a slate mansard and tin roof, and was attached to the kitchen building.

When on April 24, 1902, Dr. Talcott
rounded out his 25 years of service,
there were in the institution 1,200 patients, and the admissions during the hospital's life aggregated 6,000 and more.

Dr. Talcott was succeeded on June 15, 1902, by Dr. Maurice C. Ashley, the present superintendent. Dr. Ashley
was born in 1863 in New Jersey, graduated from the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia in 1892 and
has been connected with the hospital
ever since.

In 1905 a new surgical and clinical pavilion was built. In the same year
ground was broken for chronic patients and it was completed in 1908.
A new coach house was built in 1909.
In 1910 the completion of a new nurses'
home added 150 beds to the capacity
of the hospital.

In 1909 there was begun a building
in which to care for the acute insane.
This was ready for occupancy October 10, 1910, and was designated "Ashley Hall." Practically all patients are admitted to Ashley Hall, and the recoverable patients are cared for here

and is now occupied by 30 medical patients who work on the farm.
A second dairy barn has been completed.
A new congregate dining room has been established.

On June 22, 1921, the hospital was visited by Governor Nathan L. Miller, who was accompanied by the State Board of Estimate and Control, the Legislative Budget Committee, and Assemblyman Charles L. Mead. Many
other officials of state have inspected
the plant.

The total number of employees at
the institution is 379, of which 190 are men and 189 women. The value of real estate, including land and buildings, is $2,325,895. The personal property is worth $145,000. The number of physicians in service, including superintendent and internes is eight. The total acreage of hospital property, including farm, grounds and buildings
is 543.

HARDING THINKS BRITAIN AND U. S. WILL CONCUR AT PARLEY

Washington, Oct. 18 (Associated Press) — That the British and American representatives at the armistice conference will work together with the other nations to reduce "the burden of armaments through diminishing possible causes of war" was expressed by President Harding today in a cablegram to King George of England.

TWO FIREMEN ARE INJURED

Goshen Fighters Answer Call; Vamps Do Yeoman Service

As a result of falling brick and glass during the State Hospital fire several firemen are today wearing bandages about their heads in testimony of their injuries. Charles W. Downing, of 23 Chestnut street, a member of Waalkill Engine Company, was the worst injured. He was struck on the head by a falling brick just after he had removed his helmet, receiving a severe scalp wound which necessitated several stitches. He was attended by a member of the hospital staff and then removed to his home. He was attended later by Dr. S. W. Mills and late today was much improved.

Among others less seriously injured was Cornelius W. Macardell, of Excelsiors, who was struck on the head by a piece of falling glass from a third story window. The glass cut a deep gash in the back of his head. He was treated by Dr. Bonnyman, of the hospital staff, assisted by Miss Louise Schaefer, one of the staff nurses.

Handicapped by low water pressure until the arrival of the McQuoid steamer the firemen performed wonderful work in checking the spread of the flames to other buildings. Responding to a call for outside aid, believed to be the first since the department was organized, the truck of Cataract Engine Company, with its members, sped to in fighting the blaze.

ARCOLA WEEK

An Invitation to the Ladies especially,

Many Heating Engineers are keeping their stores open evenings and invite you to come in and meet ARCOLA

THIS WEEK is ARCOLA Week and the Heating Engineers are keeping open house. Many will keep their stores open evenings for you.

They invite you to come in and meet ARCOLA, the wonderful new hot-water heating outfit which warms a whole house with its single fire, taking the place of several stoves and paying for itself in the fuel it saves.

If you don't know where your Heating Engineer's store is, pick up the classified telephone directory and look under "Heating Contractors" or "Steamfitters" or "Plumbers." Pick out the name and address nearest your home.

And decide now to accept this invitation; it may mean a saving of $25 on this winter's fuel bill: or even more than that!

For ARCOLA—built by the same company whose larger heating plants are installed in mansions, cathedrals and even the White House itself—is guaranteed to do these five things:

- 1—Connected with American Radiators, it fills the whole house with healthful hot-water warmth.
- 2—It takes the place of several stuffy stoves, and pays for itself in the fuel it saves. In that sense it is really a gift.
- 3—It can be connected to the kitchen tank, too, giving an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing.
- 4—It can be installed immediately without the slightest disturbance to the family.
- 5—It adds from three to five times its cost to the selling value of your house—just as IDEAL Boilers and larger AMERICAN Radiator systems add far more than their cost to the value of larger buildings.

ARCOLA is unlike any heating plant you have ever seen. It is an entirely new invention developed after years of experiment in the largest thermal research laboratories in the United States.

Don't try to imagine what it is until you have seen it. But for the sake of your comfort—and your children's comfort and health especially—accept your Heating Engineer's invitation.

One-third of your fuel bill is worth saving. See ARCOLA any day or evening this week.

This red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (you used to call him Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window.

It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

BATTLES GREAT and small made the peace treaty possible. Battles great and small have kept it, thus far, from becoming a realization. Perhaps it would have been better to call it a war treaty.

THE TIMES-PRESS commends to the attention of its readers the letter on City Manager government from Graham Witschief, of Newburgh. Mr. Witschief is a well-known member of the Orange county bar and a man of the highest standing in his profession and in his home city. He is a keen student of municipal affairs. His interest in City Manager government here is solely that of a non-partisan and unprejudiced observer and he is glad to bear unbiased testimony to the workings of Plan C in the city where he resides.

THE SHORTSIGHTEDNESS of the Mexican government in dealing with the United States is truly remarkable. It only remains for President Obregon to win recognition from this country, by according to its citizens doing business in Mexico immunity from unwarranted confiscation of their property, for American financiers to extend aid to Mexico that will relieve her from the embarrassment she now feels. Once recognition is extended by the United States, and American capital is permitted to develop the country without being harrassed by repressive laws, Mexico will enter upon a period of prosperity never before experienced.

THE IDEA OF pistol ranges in the offices, of diligent practice by workers both on those memories is not one to

at 15
fire to the

automobiles that jammed the streets in the vicinity and the general unwieldiness of the sum total not only retarded the firemen in their effort to combat the trifling blaze they had been called upon to put out but proved conclusively that sterner measures than were used by the police on this occasion, and have been used in many cases in the past, are of necessity.

It is but natural for a citizenry to concentrate itself at the scene of a fire within a few minutes after the initial call to the firemen. It is only natural that this concentration become a disorganized mob, great or small, as the case may be. Such a mob will always include pedestrians in large number. A fire will attract motorists from every section within hearing distance of the fire alarm.

This same citizenry, however, has no right to sacrifice for the time being its power to think clearly and effectively. The individual has no right to forget that the firemen should come first and that every effort should be made to make the task of the firemen easy. The big idea is to keep out of the way. Ignoring the firemen's need of ample space in which to work; trying to beat with automobile a fire truck enroute to its work and other such transgressions were noted at and near 15 Spring street Sunday night. Such conduct on the part of a citizenry is inexcusable and it should not be tolerated.

New Trial in Fenski Will Case

ger has by his rulings deprived one of them of his ability to longer fight in the case this term.

Board of Mother-in-law.

The case was brought by Mrs. Fenski for the board and care of her mother-in-law, whose home was at Mineola, but who on December 9, 1919, went to live with her son and daughter-in-law, at Montgomery, where she remained until May 2 of the following year, when she returned to Mineola, where she died. The claim was for $15 per week, amounting to $270. In connection with their answer the defendants put in a counter claim for $380 for rents which it was claimed had been collected on Mrs. Caroline Fenski's property.

Plaintiff on Stand.

Mrs. Marianna Fenski, the plaintiff, who was the first witness in the oved for a dismissal of the complaint, on the ground that no action had been established, as the agreement was made by the husband, and not by the wife, the plaintiff. This claim brought forth a little argument between the two attorneys and Justice Seeger stated that it had not been shown by the plaintiff even that Mr. and Mrs. Fenski were living together, to which Attorney Fowler referred to a presumption that they were, this leading the Court to remark: "There is no presumption that a couple are living together now-days."

Justice Seeger gave the plaintiff permission to call back Mr. Fenski, who told of the conversation he had with his mother in Mineola, and said his mother said while at his home that "Mary," (meaning the plaintiff), was taking good care of her and she would pay her well.

The defendant's attorney then got busy cross-examining the husband. He inquired of him who owned the furniture in the home, among the first interrogations. This caused the witness to reply: "You ask me such funny things. I suppose we both own it." The succeeding questions fired at the witness in rapid succession, included, "Who owns the farm?" "Do you raise pigs?" "Do you keep hens; raise cabbage, make sauer kraut; raise potatoes?" these questions being asked for the purpose of showing that the mother was boarded from the proceeds of the place, in which the husband was as much interested as the wife; that he really provided the living.

Justice Seeger, in answer to the contention of Attorney Fowler, said that, according to the evidence, the husband furnished the household, and there was no assignment of the husband's claim to the wife, the presumption being that the son agreed to supply her with board. At this point the Court referred to an old case of record which he ran across in his practice years ago, and he thought it was quite similar to this case. "This claim is so intermingled with the husband's claim, that I do not think there is any separate claim here," said the Court. "There is no proof here that the wife furnished a cracker, a potato, or a piece of meat."

Plaintiff Would Assist.

While the argument was in progress, Mrs. Fenski, who had a seat near her attorney and her husband, attempted to make an assertion, which caused the Court to warn her: "We don't need you to argue the case; you have a good lawyer."

Husband Again on Stand.

Then, in an effort to prove what service the plaintiff rendered to her mother-in-law, the husband of the plaintiff was again called to the stand. He said his wife bathed his mother with alcohol, remained up nights with her, put hot-water bottles to her back, warm bricks to her feet, put her to bed, assisted her in dressing in the morning and when she had attacks of asthma, (generally in the night time) did all in her power to relieve her.

Earle H. Houghtaling.

Earle H. Houghtaling, a Walden attorney, was called for the purpose of showing the reasonable compensation for a nurse, but the Court refused to permit him to testify, declaring that, while the witness was a mighty good lawyer, he was not qualified to testify.

ing: testimony of a poor master can be more than a lawyer. A man on this jury has had less experience with nurses, they are not experts.

Seeing there was the prospect of getting anywhere with the existing conditions, the attorney for the plaintiff asked permission to withdraw a juror, making it a mistrial. The request was granted and the jury discharged.

The defendant asked for the full taxable costs in the action, and this was granted.

It is stated that the next trial of the case will be held in the December term, in Newburgh.

Public Voice

THE DROWNED LANDS.

Editor Times-Press:

Referring to the article of a few days since in which the correspondent mentions a number of historical items for the enlightenment of the citizens of New Hampton the one that especially interests me is the one that relates to the draining of the drowned lands and why I should have been thus interested is because I am so closely related to one of the parties who took such an active part and won such a splendid victory in the battle which must ever make their names memorable.

My grandfather, John Houston and my father, William H. Houston, at a different time were commissioners of the drowned lands, appointed by the state, and I am glad to be able to say they were men of courage and perseverance, for what they helped accomplish in this matter must remain a lasting legacy to the generations which follow. I cannot trace at this time the Wallkill river to its source

During his alleged intoxication he charged her with being untrue to him, and intimidated other women had given him information which led him to this belief. Saturday, in a jealous rage intensified by drink, he struck her. She went to police and asked them to request her husband's appearance at headquarters, in an effort to have him tell who made the accusations.

When county authorities took away from 13-year-old Annie Teaskiwicz, who lives near Goshen, her "daddy" and clamped him in jail, the little members of a big family of 12 other brothers and sisters and her mother was inclined to be sad.

The part destroyed by fire, which was the original hospital, accommodated all the domestic and administrative offices, besides the more than 200 ward patients. Of marked contrast to the sombre heaviness not infrequently seen in the building, the structure was a most admirable one. A boldly projecting tower, now in ruins in its topmost part, rose 90 feet. The building was the home of the offices of Dr. M. C. Ashley, Dr. R. C. Woodman, administration and staff offices, reception rooms, school of nursing room, matrons' room, pharmacy and wards. The basement are an old press and type, relics of the days of 1890 and 1897, when the "Conglomerate," a paper which gained considerable renown, was published. The pharmacy stock was saved and removed to Assembly Hall, which incidentally will be out of commission as an amusement center for a short time.

CITY MANAGER PLAN BUT YET PROPOSED, WITSCHIEF'S BELIEF

Fowler, of New York, attorney for the plaintiff, and Orville V. W. Hawkins, of 40 Exchange Place, New York, attorney for the defendant. It was a battle, which, while it only lasted a short time, was waged by the two attorneys in a manner which indicated that neither proposed to surrender to the other until Justice See

Goshen Fighters Answer Call; Vamps Do Yeoman Service

As a result of falling brick and glass during the State Hospital fire several firemen are today wearing bandages about their heads in testimony of their injuries. Charles W. Downing, of 23 Chestnut street, a member of Waalkill Engine Company, was the worst injured. He was struck on the head by a falling brick just after he had removed his helmet, receiving a severe scalp wound which necessitated several stitches. He was attended by a member of the hospital staff and then removed to his home. He was attended later by Dr. S. W. Mills and late today was much improved.

Among others less seriously injured was Cornelius W. Macardell, of Excelsiors, who was struck on the head by a piece of falling glass from a third story window. The glass cut a deep gash in the back of his head. He was treated by Dr. Bonnyman, of the hospital staff, assisted by Miss Louise Schaefer, one of the staff nurses.

Handicapped by low water pressure until the arrival of the McQuoid steamer the firemen performed wonderful work in checking the spread of the flames to other buildings. Responding to a call for outside aid, believed to be the first since the department was organized, the truck of Cataract Engine Company, with a number of members, sped to this city to aid in fighting the blaze. who was accompanied by the State Board of Estimate and Control, the Legislative Budget Committee, and Assemblyman Charles L. Mead. Many
other officials of state have inspected
the plant.

The total number of employees at
the institution is 379, of which 190 are
men and 189 women. The value of real estate, including land and buildings, is $2,325,895. The personal property is worth $145,000. The number of physicians in service, including superintendent and internes is eight. The total acreage of hospital property, including farm, grounds and buildings
is 543.

In August, 1889, the institution received $2,959.11 from the executors of
the last will and testament of Miss Leonora S. Bolles, of Garden City,
Queens county, New York, and with
this money a library hall was erected
and named "The Leonora S. Bolles
Memorial Library." It is a one-story
structure, designed in imitation of the Greek Parthenon. It is available to both patients and employees.

In 1889 the State Commission in Lunacy was created and the Commission assumed most of the duties and
functions formerly belonging to the Board of Trustees. The name of the institution was changed to the "Middletown State Homeopathic Hospital." Soon after the patient population was swelled by the reception of patients
from the almshouses of this hospital
district, and the next year an appropriation of $110,000 was made for buildings to accommodate the increased numbers. With this money Talcott Hall and Annex No. 2 were built.

Two cottages for women convalescent patients were erected in 1891. They were of wood and accommodated 70
patients. Two homes for nurses were begun in 1893, and in the following
year these buildings were completed
and occupied. The removal of the attendants and nurses from the wards
increased the capacity for patients by
64. In 1901 a cold storage building
was erected. This was of brick, with a slate mansard and tin roof, and was attached to the kitchen building.

When on April 24, 1902, Dr. Talcott
rounded out his 25 years of service,
there were in the institution 1,200 patients, and the admissions during the hospital's life aggregated 6,000 and
more.

Dr. Talcott was succeeded on June 15, 1902, by Dr. Maurice C. Ashley, the present superintendent. Dr. Ashley
was born in 1863 in New Jersey, graduated from the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia in 1892 and
has been connected with the hospital
ever since.

In 1905 a new surgical and clinical
pavilion was built. In the same year
ground was broken for chronic patients and it was completed in 1908.
A new coach house was built in 1909.
In 1910 the completion of a new nurses'
home added 150 beds to the capacity
of the hospital.

In 1909 there was begun a building
in which to care for the acute insane.
This was ready for occupancy October 10, 1910, and was designated "Ashley Hall." Practically all patients are admitted to Ashley Hall, and the re-
coverable patients are cared for here

Leonard and Tendler were to have met in a championship bout at Philadelphia recently but the contest was called off when Leonard injured his hand in training. Kansas stayed 12 rounds with the champion in a bout in New Jersey last winter.

DR. SWARTWOUT MAKES MOST UNUSUAL GOLF SHOT

Port Jervis, Oct. 18—While playing the third hole on the Port Jervis Country Club golf links recently, Dr. H. R. Swartwout made one of the most remarkable shots ever seen in this vicinity. On his third shot from the tee Dr. Swartwout's ball was on the fairway, fully 80 yards from the "pin," but he put the ball in the cup on his approach shot for a par 4, a shot that is seldom seen.

on the country club. If you don't us well and good, however, we'll try and let you know that you have been in a battle before it's all over.

The old Monroe standby, Kasch, will be in the pitcher's box, with Schoolboy Gay on the receiving end, and the balance of the team will contain a number of the old time players who very much enjoyed their battles with the Mechanics up to a couple of years ago, and are glad that they are once more going to meet their old rivals, the Mechanics A. A., and trust that the friendly spirit that prevailed at that time may continue.

Waalkill's Club Holds Meeting

A special meeting of the Waalkill Engine Company Social and Athletic Club was held Monday night at the truck house. Reports were rendered by the committees in charge of the recent pinocle party, showing the affair to have been a success, both socially and financially.

Five new members were enrolled. Following the meeting, those present adjourned to the Empire alleys.

conduct it. It was voted to make a discussion study of Lee's "Play in Education."

An assistant to the secretary was elected, Miss Williams. A treasurer to succeed Russell Smith, who has left town, was also elected, Richard Buck.

One of the problems the club has to face is a meeting place where a floor sufficiently supported can be had for group dancing, folk dancing and active games. This leads to an expression of the need in Middletown for a community building of the type to take care of such activities as the Recreation Leaders' club, and other gatherings when the object is not the taking in of money by any particular person or organization.

The meetings will be held regularly every two weeks on Monday evenings.

A questionnaire was given to each person present intended to discover the particular interests of those present. Among the specially requested activities were: Games for parties of young people, stunts for indoors for girls or boys, games for girls' clubs, outdoor stunts for girls or boys, development of certain types of evenings as Indian, Old English, etc., simple group dances, one act plays,

American world rehabilitation was the mental reason given in the Senate today by Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, ranking Democratic member and former chairman of the foreign relations committee, for favoring ratification of the peace treaty with Germany.
"The question before us now," said Senator Hitchcock, "is not a choice between the Versailles treaty and the pending treaty but between the pending treaty and a protected uncertainty without any treaty."

Masked Bandits In a Bank Raid

Toronto, Oct. 18 (Associated Press)
—Five armed and masked men entered the branch of the Bank of Ham-floor, rifled cages and vaults and escaped in a motor car. Shots were fired after the men.

The robbers obtained only $3,000.
They overlooked $4,000 in bonds on a

Public Voice

AN APPRECIATION.

Editor Times-Press:

Just two things I would like to say.
First, I voice the sentiment of all
who saw the magnificent, gorgeous
and horrible spectacle of Tuesday
morning as we stood in the darkness
of the hospital grounds and saw the daring work of our firemen under the magnificent leadership of their chief.
We took our hats to you, men, and thank God for your being and for your spirit.

Second, we keep those hats off as
we think of the splendid body of doctors, nurses and attendants. So poorly compensated as to be almost with
the firemen as "volunteer" workers,
yet so efficient, so calm, so splendidly
organized as to be able in such a moment of destiny to deliver their charges in safety from the horror
which threatened them.

vent a peace settlement with Germany and would leave everything in a state of uncertainty.

The present treaty, the Senator said,
would be followed by other treaties with Germany.

"This treaty, however," he added,
"is the first step that must be taken and this step now has been delayed for almost three years. I believe it should be taken and taken at once."

the creation of a commission to ar-

To Test Success.

Washington, Oct. 18—The action of the railroad labor board in summoning railroad union chiefs to Chicago
for conference was described in high official circles today as a first step to determine whether the railway board
is to be regarded as an efficient government agency or failure.

The step, it was learned today after
the cabinet meeting, is in entire accord with the desires of the administration although the indications were that President Harding was not ready
to take a personal hand in the situation so long as the board was working toward a solution. No conference

To develop these germ decencies of pur-bodies" properly, you must have this constiturich, red blood and a strong, vigorous constitution—in fact, this is the best prevention almost any disease.

If you are weak, nervous or run down, or subject to colds, take no chances. One day you may develop serious throat, bronchial or lung trouble or perhaps pneumonia and you may go off like a shot. Therefore commence to enrich your blood and fortify yourself against "disease germs" today. To build more and better blood and make stronger nerves, there is nothing superior to NUXATED IRON as it contains organic iron like the iron in your blood combined with a product representing the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force for feeding the nerves. Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food. It often increases the bodily and mental vigor, strength and endurance in two weeks' time.

Over 4,000,000 people are using it annually. It has been highly endorsed by former United States Senators, U. S. Army Generals, many physicians and prominent men. Even the Pope at Rome mentioned it favorably in a communication to the Proprietor of the Pharmacy Normale of Paris.
Satisfaction guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Beware of substitutes.
Look for the word "NUXATED" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold your blood and system as nature intended you should do, then you should eat plenty of vitamins containing foods, such as lettuce, spinach and apples and assist them from time to time with your meals with a little harmless, palatable "MEDIC-YEAST," which is rich in firm flesh-building vitamins like the vitamins in your blood itself and like the vitamins the cow, ox and horse get in the green grass at pasture. You know what the little blade of grass with its vitamins means to one of these creatures in flesh and strength, just so much nature's vitamins in MEDIC-YEAST means to you. When you find yourself thin, pale, skinny and ugly-looking, do not wait, but take some MEDIC-YEAST regularly. Increase your weight to normal with solid, firm, stay-there tissue and flesh, which you will feed the shrunken tissues and aid nature in making you strong, well and fully developed. You owe it to yourself to make this simple test: Weigh and measure yourself. Next take MEDIC-YEAST with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week. The scales, mirror and tape measure won't deceive you. When you are satisfied with your gain in weight, energy and strength, tell your friends about MEDIC-YEAST Tonic Tablets and what they will do for them. MEDIC-YEAST should not be taken by anyone who objects to having their weight increase to normal.

fire alarm. Just before this Chief Higham was notified by telephone.

The call of 72, which everyone knows is the State Hospital box, aroused the entire city and as it was immediately followed by the chief's 2-2-2 the excitement down town became intense.

Chief Higham realized that he had a very serious conflagration to cope with and at once sent a telephone call to Goshen and Florida and before 2 o'clock Dikeman and Cataract Hose companies of Goshen were on the scene. The alarm when turned in at Goshen could plainly be heard in this city.

Within 10 minutes after the State Hospital siren sounded a Times-Press reporter who was taken to the scene by

from Goshen and from nearby points, and there was a line of parked cars on Monhagen avenue and West Main street from the hospital to the power house of the lighting company.

With the patients in the main building removed to safety the hospital employees turned their attention to saving the records of the institution housed in the main offices. Everything of value was gotten out.

By this time the entire upper part of the main building was in flames. There was not a breath of air and the flames shot straight upward. It was due to this fact that an awful catastrophe is not recorded today. Had there been a strong wind blowing the fire would quickly have communicated with the adjoining buildings. This would surely have taken place to the right of the main building, because here there is a connecting link of wooden structure which also connects with the library.

However, with the falling of the two towers great clouds of sparks shot up a hundred feet in the air and fell in showers on the roofs of the adjoining buildings.

Guards were stationed on each building, and while great chunks of flaming wood clung to the roofs, no other building ignited.

When the State Hospital siren sounded the employees rushed to their posts just as though it were fire drill. Most of them realized that it was no mere fire drill and they did not wait to put on any more of the big business of the patients. There were some flames at the windows of the adjoining buildings just as the fire broke through the roof, but this was only for an instant and when the patients were huddled in groups on the lawns and at the baseball diamond they sat as though in a stupor.

With the attic burned off there was a level sea of fire across the entire top of the main building. Momentarily a section of the roof would fall into the vortex and a column of flames and sparks spurt up. Blazing cornices fell to the ground and the firemen were in great danger all the while.

When it was found only one stream of water could reach the top of the building Chief Higham ordered several lines of hose run through the main entrance and in this way the fire was attacked from below.

The water pressure, however, was so light that little could be done to save the building. When the big steamer from McQuoids' engine house arrived at the main entrance two other good streams were added and then the fire was brought under control. This was at 2:30 and all danger of other buildings taking fire was past.

By this time the flames had eaten their way downward in spots through the fourth and third floors to the second floor.

One of the interested spectators of the fire was Fred S. McWilliams, whose father, Edward McWilliams, back in 1872-1874 had charge of the construction of the building.

The population of the State Hospital at this time is about held. Only such as coping wooden or tin parts of main portion of the building would fall, showering sparks in every direction.

FIREMEN IN PERIL.

An hour after the blaze started and after it was evident that the fury of the fire was surely spending its force, firemen began operations on the floor directly beneath that on which the blaze was still burning steadily. In the light of a brightly burning electric lamp, partially screened from the curious watchers by the smoke which hung closely about the building, a handful of men were endangered when the wall on the third story above them toppled, fell on its

When Mr. Jones was saved from the frying pan —

They talk yet of the change that came over Jones. Some said it was psychology. Some said it was a miracle. All said it was a mystery.

When they asked Jones, he said it was liberation from slavery—slavery to the frying pan, and to grease and starch.

Jones used to take his breakfast fried, and followed this with a heavy lunch.

In those days they said at the office: "Old Jones has a secret sorrow and he's sore on the world."

One day Jones started late—no time for the usual breakfast to be cooked.

Jones had a breakfast on Grape-Nuts with good cream. He was delighted with the crispness and rich flavor. Felt satisfied and "fed." Tried it again at lunch. Kept on breakfasting that way—often lunching, too.

Jones began to "perk up," talk up, step up—GET up.

"Let Jones show you how to do this," they began to say at the office.

As to Jones—he said: "That's a great food—GRAPE-NUTS."

There are thousands of Joneses, both kinds—reckless feeders and wise feeders.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

Fred E. Vance, local auctioneer, principal in many court cases, is in the toils again. This afternoon he is reposing in cell No. 5 of the city jail with one charge definitely against him and a possible second facing him.

Vance was arrested this morning by Officers Robert A. LeClerc and Percival Bennett, after local police for three days had awaited his return for jumping his bail bond of $2,500, in connection with his appeal from a conviction on the charge of receiving stolen goods from the railroad.

Vance's bondsmen were Edward Forshay, of Westtown, and Elmer R. Sutherland, of 102 Beacon street. When Vance three days ago left this city, Mr. Forshay and Mr. Sutherland surrendered the bond and Vance was immediately liable to arrest.

Today he appeared at the Sutherland home. He persuaded Mrs. Sutherland, police say, to send to his second wife a telegram saying he was ill. His wife, accompanied by her father, Samuel G. Williams, of Mills avenue, went to the Sutherland home.

Here, it is alleged, Vance tried to have his wife remain with him. Her father appeared and he threatened him, police say. It was then that Mr. Williams went to police and asked for a warrant for Vance's arrest on the charge of threatening him. This gave police the information as to Vance's whereabouts and his arrest followed.

Whether or not Mr. Williams will push his complaint against him had not been decided this afternoon.

Cancer of the stomach was the cause of demise. He was about 58 years of age. He was a successful farmer. He is survived by his wife and several children.

Patients in West Wing.

Main building patients are occupying the recently completed west wing of the new department of the East Group. There are no furnishings in the building, but that is as nothing compared to the fact of shelter being provided. There is ample room for all of the Main Building patients who were dispossessed by fire.

POLICE PROTECTION.

Police protection was at all times adequate and the force rose to the occasion in excellent form. Sergeant John Gier, at the desk, immediately communicated with the day officers, when the fire proportions were realized, and a plan was laid to protect homes in the city. Chief John D. McCoach and Officer Harry L. Wood were among the first at the scene of the fire and aided in getting the women patients to safety. Other officers of the day force were occupied at the scene of the blaze.

One of the peculiar features of the fire was the fact that a large fern in a room on the third floor, directly under

In addition to the regular morning meal for the patients, the cooking staff of the hospital fed the firemen shortly after 8 o'clock.

The embers from the burned timbers were hardly cool before work on clearing away the debris was begun by employees.

Temporary offices were established in Pavilion No. 2 at the left of the destroyed structure. Early this morning Dr. M. C. Ashley, the superintendent, said that things at the hospital would be functioning near normal by noon.

Working under his direction employees are moving the contents of the first floor to another building and the rooms made vacant are being fitted up for temporary offices.

Public Voice

AN APPRECIATION.

Editor Times-Press:

Just two things I would like to say.
First, I voice the sentiment of all
who saw the magnificent, gorgeous
and horrible spectacle of Tuesday
morning as we stood in the darkness
of the hospital grounds and saw the
daring work of our firemen under the
magnificent leadership of their chief.
We took our hats off to you, men, and thank God for your being and for your
spirit.

Second, we keep those hats off as
we think of the splendid body of doctors, nurses and attendants. So poorly
compensated as to be almost with
the fireman as "volunteer" workers,
yet so efficient, so calm, so splendidly
organized as to be able in such a moment of destiny to deliver their
charges in safety from the horror
which threatened them.

Washington, Oct. 18—The action of

for conference was described in high
official circles today as a first step to determine whether the railway board
is to be regarded as an efficient gov-

The step, it was learned today after
the cabinet meeting, is in entire accord with the desires of the adminis-

that President Harding was not ready
to take a personal hand in the situation so long as the board was work-

almost any disease.

If you are weak, nervous or run down, or sub-

Over 4,000,000 people are using it annually. It

YEAST EATERS LIKE TABLETS

Easier To Take, Contain Proper Dose, Produce Results Quicker.

CHEMISTS CONCENTRATE VITAMINE FROM YEAST

Thousands are turning from ordinary yeast to the new and better concentrated tablets which contain a proper dose of Yeast Vitamine (Water Solution B), made from yeast with the still more important "Fat Soluble A" Vitamine.

These Tablets are called "Phos-Pho Vitamine" tablets and those taking yeast to help banish pimples, boils, carbuncles, etc., beautify complexion, increase weight, strengthen and build up the rundown system and to stop constipation in a permanent fashion, will find the tablets easy to take, more economic and results quicker. It is no wonder that druggists and chemists recommend these Phos-Pho Vitamine Tablets for all complaints for which ordinary yeast is good.

If your druggist hasn't secured the tablets yet, send $1, plus 4c war tax, to Irving Laboratory, Wheeling, W. Va., for large bottle of sixty Phos-Pho Vitamine Tablets prepaid.—Adv.

Descendants of David J. and Maria Carlough Gather

Tallmans, Oct. 18—A reunion of the descendants of David J. and Maria May Carlough was held in the former Grange Hall here on Saturday last, attended by nearly 200 persons, and while not all the direct descendants were present, every branch of the family tree was represented.

The Carlough family were early settlers in Bergen county, N. J., the progenitor of the race being a resident of Saddle River all his life, where he died in 1906 at the age of 93 years and six months. His father was Jas. Carlough and his mother, Elizabeth Ackerman. The former, born in Bergen county in 1778, was 90 years of age at the time of his decease. David J. Carlough was the father of nine children, five of whom are living, James, the eldest, a resident of Saddle River; John, also of Saddle River; David and Mrs. Judson Young, of Tallmans, and Mrs. Katherine Straut, of Mahwah. There are 40 grandchildren, 105 great-grandchildren and 45 great-great-grandchildren.

During the meeting steps were taken toward the formation of an organization of the descendants of David J. Carlough and Maria May, the officers elected being James Carlough, a son, chairman; Miss Alta Young, of Tallmans, a grand-daughter, secretary; and John Carlough, a son, treasurer. It was arranged that the annual reunion should be held on the second Saturday in October of each year, the place of the next meeting possibly being Grange Hall in Ramsey.

The oldest living relative present was James Carlough, a son, who confessed to 77 years of youth, and an infant Irma Overbeck, a great-great-granddaughter, born July 13 of the present year. Among the relatives residing in Orange county are Jacob J. May, a nephew; Jacob J. VanBuskirk, a great-grandson, both of Campbell Hall, and Andrew J. VanBuskirk, also a great-grandson, of Maybrook. The majority of the descendants reside within a radius of 50 miles of the old homestead, near Ramsey, many towns in Rockland county, and Bergen and Passaic counties, N. J., claiming them as their citizens.

Roosevelt Has Praise for Stitt

New York, Oct. 18—Col. Theodore Roosevelt Monday sent a letter to Assemblyman Theodore M. Stitt, Republican candidate for alderman in the new 43d Aldermanic district, praising Mr. Stitt and saying that if he possibly can get away from Washington he will come on and speak for him. The letter says:

"I am delighted to know that you are running for alderman. You are just the type of man who is needed in public service. If I can get away from Washington it will give me the real kind of pleasure to speak in your behalf. It was a very great pleasure to me to work side by side with you in Albany."

"From constant association, which, after all, is the real test, I know you to be clear thinking, able, courageous and absolutely upright. Neither fear nor favor moved you in your decisions. I congratulate the people of Kings county on having an opportunity to place in office a man of your calibre."

Assemblyman Stitt is a nephew of Dr. Theo. D. Mills, of this city, for whom he was named.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Vanton's Drug Store, 49 North street, to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

Sporting Editor Times-Press:

All Monroe fans are awaiting the Mechanics' decision and are ready to travel to Middletown in support of their team for the first game of a series which by all means should start this coming Sunday.

pageantry, story-telling, stunt stories, shadow pictures, charades, songs and stunts and games for hikes or camp-fires.

It was very particularly decided by the club that the reason for its being is to seriously study and further recreation in all its best forms.

After the business meeting a program of games and stunts was participated in with the idea of learning them for use at other gatherings. It is to be hoped that this club can have the benefit of the membership of those who have had long experience in all forms of approved recreation so that their particular sport may have its charms explained and passed on to new followers. It is further the desire of the club that its activities and interests may include the outdoor winter and summer sports as well as the indoor ones.

The resolution passed at the last meeting of the Board of Governors which provided for the services of an expert, also directed the construction committee to proceed with the work that had expert approval.

In order to get results for next season, economically and with as little interference as possible with the use of the course, the committee was directed to commence work at once and caused him much worry, and in his condition he reasoned it might cause him to be sent to jail for eight or 10 years.

Last night he thought he saw two officers passing up and down in front of his house at 132 West Main street. He went to his room at 11 o'clock, thought there was an officer under his bed, and looked for him with a match. He remained awake all night.

This morning the thought of going to jail had become intensified. He went into the kitchen. His wife was in the bedroom adjoining. He drew from his pocket the bottle of poison purchased by his wife for use in a recent illness following the birth of a child. He drank the contents. A moment later occupants of the lower portion of the house were aroused by the cry: "O, My God! Help! Help!"

Neighbors rushed to his aid, gave him emetics, but he died just before the 8 o'clock whistle blast sounded. Dr. L. G. McAllister had been called, and later Coroner Sheldon arrived.

Ives had been employed by the Union for the last 10 months. His mother, Mrs. Marion Ives, lives in Middletown, as do also a brother, Howard Ives, and a sister, Mrs. Peter Andrew. Another sister, Mrs. E. Umbach, lives in Brooklyn.

Two Firemen Injured

panted by a number of members of Dikeman Hose Company.

With the exception of those actively engaged with the Cataract truck, which was pumping water from the miniature lake at the rear of the home of Dr. Ashley, near West Main street, the members of the two Goshen companies were actively engaged in combating the spread of the flames.

Once they narrowly escaped serious injury when a portion of the wall at the left end of the building fell with a crash, missing some of them by inches.

Every company in this city responded to the alarm and worked almost continuously from the time of their arrival within a few minutes after the alarm was sounded.

The white team of Eagles, crippled and not in use for several months, made its appearance at the fire. While the members have attended every fire on foot, this is the first trip made by the truck since the horses were injured.

Monhagen Hose Company was also crippled by the loss of its pump which is out of commission with a broken rear axle. In spite of this the members worked hard and were on hand whenever wanted.

Waalkill Engine Company performed yeoman service for more than an hour. Located at the rear of the burning building it was the only company able to throw a stream of water over the building. The McQuoids were doing double duty with their pump near Pavilion No. 3 and the steamer forcing double streams of water from a 20 inch main at the lower gate on Monhagen avenue.

Members of Ontario Chemical Engine and Hose Company were perched in precarious positions all over the building. They were one of the last companies to leave the building after the recall was sounded. Phoenix Engine Company gave its usual valuable aid in subduing the blaze after pieces of water became available.

Look for Chop In Freight Rate

Washington, Oct. 18 (Associated Press)—The impression was given in administration quarters today that a freight rate reduction was under consideration. There was no statement to indicate how soon a decision on the question might be reached but high administration officials vouchsafed the information that an announcement concerning the rate readjustment might come within a few days.

Belfast, Oct. 18 (Associated Press)—Reports that the Ulster volunteer force was being reorganized were verified in official quarters here today. Bergdoll Case Papers Stolen In Washington

Washington, Oct. 18 (Associated Press)—A box containing many official papers relating to the congressional investigation of the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the draft dodger, and some private family documents, was stolen last night from the office of Representative Johnson, Democrat, of Kentucky, located on the main floor of the House office building. Entering the office which adjoins the post office through a window the robbers took the box, as big as a trunk, out of the door and down the main corridor of the building to the street. Nothing else of value was molested. The Washington police got a number of excellent fingerprints. The Capitol

'Merry Whirl' in Premiere Tonight

Tonight's the night. Fifteen minutes past eight is the time. The Stratton Theatre is the place. The show's the "Merry Whirl of 1921," big amateur revue staged by direction of Miss Lila Agnew Stewart and presented for the benefit of Thrall Hospital.

Those who last night were privileged to occupy seats in the theatre for the grand finale to rehearsals, the full-dress costume affair, were satisfied that the "Merry Whirl" is the biggest local talent theatrical affair ever attempted in this city.

There are scores of men, women and children in the casts and choruses; there is a rampant riot of color in the costumes; there is a snap and a catch in the music which is irresistible; there are twists and turns in the dances which will be new to Middletown. And, there's spirit in the whole setting.

The initial showing will open at 8:15 tonight. The same hour will prevail each night throughout the rest of the week. There will be a matinee Saturday. The Stratton box office today reported a sharp demand for seats, but with enough good ones left to warrant further buying.

sent to a rest behind iron bars. No, she could forget that and keep smiling so long as she could help the other members of the family eke out a living, bare as it must of necessity be.

And, so, this 13-year-old living spirit of helpfulness and optimism set out to do her best as the second oldest of the dozen children to keep the family going.

But, even Annie, with all her stout-heartedness, was helpless when her throat became affected so that an operation was imperative if she were to continue to exist at all. Almost unaided in this new problem, in the shadow always attendant upon poverty, Annie saw no way out. But, in a spirit of unselfishness, she thought of "her" family.

Then along came a State trooper. Big in physique, equally big in heart, Sergeant A. P. Broadfield learned of the family and of the little brave-hearted girl. State troopers work fast. Being, one of them, so did the sergeant.

He communicated with Miss Janie Gray, Thrall Hospital's new superintendent. Together they had her admitted as a full charity patient. Physicians were needed. Drs. O. Northway-Meyer and L. G. Distler volunteered their services. Thursday night Annie Teaskiewicz underwent an operation that was successful.

Back in the little home near Goshen are 12 brothers and sisters and the mother. They're happy that Annie is coming back to them. But, they're no happier than Annie. She has been thinking of them more perhaps than they of her.

Toner—Hamilton.

The marriage of Miss Marion Willard Hamilton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, Jr., of Lawrence avenue, Westfield, N. J., and Warren E. Toner, of Newark, N. J., took place Saturday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. R. F. Y. Pierce of Plainfield, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Dr. William K. McKinney, of the Presbyterian Church in Westfield.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocade satin, trimmed with Princess lace and pearl beads. A court train of satin fell from her shoulders. The veil, which had been worn by her mother, was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Hazel Runyon, of Plainfield, as maid of honor, who wore yellow radium taffeta. Her arm bouquet was orchid chrysanthemums.

Miss Emeline Binard, of Elizabeth, N. J., a friend of the bride, played the wedding march.

An aisle through which the bridal party passed was formed of white ribbon borne by twelve ribbon bearers. The ribbon bearers were Miss Winifred Barrett, of East Orange; Mrs. Ralph Runyon, of Philadelphia; Miss Mildred Libby, of Washington; Mrs. Frank Baker, of Montclair; Miss Eleanor Lewis, of New Brunswick; Miss Beatrice Plumridge, of Westfield; Miss Annette Wheeler, of Forest Hills, L. I.; Miss Marion Lockwood, of Plainfield; Miss Natalie Terry, of Dunellen; Miss Rose E. Toner, of Middletown, N. Y.; Miss Beatrice Polhemus, of East Orange, and Miss Lillian W. Terhune.

How to Make Delicious Apple Cider Jelly in 10 Minutes

Economical, Easy and Never-Failing Certo Process Amazes Housewives—Even Startles Expert Jelly Makers.

Until now, grandmother's rule has governed the making of fruit jelly. Like most of her habits in the kitchen, a new way has been found that eliminates the worry, the waste and the hard work. Anyone can now make excellent jelly by following simple recipes. A great many new kinds of jellies—some that grandmother could not make—are now easily, quickly and economically made.

For instance, a delicious jelly can be easily made from apple cider, which is abundant at this time, at a cost of not to exceed ten cents a glass. The recipe is simple: Carefully measure seven and two-thirds level cups (three and one-quarter pounds) of sugar and then four cups (two pounds) of unfermented apple cider into a large saucepan (six quart size), and stir, bring to a boil. At once add one bottle of Certo, stirring constantly. Continue to stir and bring again to a hard boil for one minute, stirring continually. Remove from fire, let stand one minute, skim and pour into glasses quickly. Allow to stand at least three days before paraffining. Makes twelve half-pint glasses.

Excellent grape jelly can also be made with the same recipe by using ordinary bottle grape juice instead of the apple cider. In fact, enthusiasts say that the number of jellies possible to make with Certo is limited entirely by the number of fruit and other flavors. Wherever introduced Certo has quickly become a craze among housewives and a subject for conversation among friends. It is so new, so revolutionary, so simple and so sure that every housewife wants to try it and then to make up a lot of new flavors. They say they will never return to the old, wasteful, and uncertain method.

Certo is simply "Mother Nature's jelly-maker." It contains no gelatin, chemical or preservative. The jellyfying principle of fruit itself is extracted and concentrated for home use. It is highly endorsed by many food experts and government authorities. With it you can make all kinds of jams, jellies and marmalades from fresh, dried and canned fruits as per recipes in the Certo Book of Recipes given with every bottle.

Get a bottle of Certo with a recipe book from your grocer or druggist right away and start to make all your jellies by this wonderful Certo Process. If your dealer does not have Certo, ask him to order it from his jobber. Apple cider jelly is a great favorite with all, especially children, for a spread on bread. Make some while you can get sweet cider. You can also use bottled sweet cider.—Advertisement.

have been belittled. This is wrong.

The Elusive Capital.

What is the capital of the United States? Anybody can answer "Washington." But is the city of Washington alone the capital, or does that proud distinction belong to the entire District of Columbia?

Congress is not quite certain. The State Department is in doubt. The President has been appealed to, and he may pass the buck to the Attorney General.

For years all state documents were signed as "Done in the City of Washington." During the last administration the chairman of the committee on the District of Columbia raised the point that the capital was established in the federal district, not in its only city. President Wilson accepted the contention and signed his proclamations as "Done in the District of Columbia." Mr. Harding has continued the practice.

Whatever may be the final ruling, most Americans will still think of Washington as the capital and focus their patriotic emotions accordingly.
But it shows how often humankind is mistaken in its estimate of its own accuracy.
