What's New & Interesting at Middletown Thrall Library!

Winter 2012 Issue

"One kind word can warm three winter months" – Japanese Proverb

From Matt Pfisterer Director of Middletown Thrall Library

Winter 2012 is upon us, but fortunately we have experienced milder temperatures than normal thus far and we have avoided the severe storms and extremely cold temperatures that we experienced last winter.

We have planned some great programs this winter, and Thrall Library is the perfect place to shake off the winter blues by coming to the Library for some great adult programs:

- Afternoon Movies for Adults – Great Hollywood movies shown in the 2nd floor Community Room on the 3rd Wednesday of each month. All movies are free and begin at 2:00 PM. Upcoming dates are March 21st, April 18th, and May 16th. We do not publicize movie titles outside of the Library due to licensing restrictions, but you can call the Library to find out each month's title.
- Real Eclectic Film Series 2012 - "Reel Eclectic" is Middletown Thrall Library's year-long art / independent / international film festival. Throughout this series we present thought-provoking, unique, and critically-acclaimed films, many of which are international in scope. If mature entertainment of a truly different order is what you crave, this series should appeal to you! The next few series dates are March 1st, April 5th, and May 3rd. All movies are shown in the library's second floor Community Room on the first Thursday of each month. Admission is free and all movies begin at 7:00 PM. Please call the Library to find out each month's film title.

So here's to a mild winter made warmer by quality programs at the Library!

Library System Transition: A Progress Report

Over the past several weeks, the library system (RCLS) completed its transition from the old Horizon library software to a new system called Symphony.

Beyond the expected share of initial technical glitches and the very human challenges involved in adjusting to a new system, we are happy to report on some of the more positive and exciting aspects of this transition:

- Free telephone notifications of reserves are now available! A robot will call you to let you know if a book you requested has arrived at the library.
- If you prefer, you can also opt to receive free e-mail notices instead. Please inquire at Reference about this.
- You can now pick up requested items at any RCLS library you want! Just indicate which library you prefer when reserving an item - either when you are online (at the "Place Holds" prompt in the catalog) or when you visit the Reference desk and ask a librarian to reserve an item.

Also, we (Thrall) established new search and browse options in our own entrance page to the catalog. For example:

- You can limit searches to "newest items" (under Date) or select a year or decade (1990s, 1980s, etc.).
- You can limit searches to Large Print items.
- Looking for music CDs? There's an option for that as well.
- Our Children's Catalog and Young Adults catalog entrance pages enable you to search expressly for Juvenile, Picture Books, or YA items and set the catalog into Children's or YA mode as you continue to search from those points.

If you "bookmarked" any old catalog pages, such as the old Library Account login page or AquaBrowser, please delete those outdated "bookmarks" (or "Favorites") and consider creating new bookmarks for either our library home page (www.thrall.org) or main catalog entrance page so you can quickly reach the new catalog and our library services.

We updated our own "OpenSearch plugins" so Firefox and Internet Explorer users can access the new catalog (along with many of our other services) directly through their browsers. For more on this: http:// thrall.org/addsearches

While the RCLS transition is technically "over," we still welcome your feedback and inquiries about RCLS's new catalog. If you have any questions, technical difficulties, or comments, please feel free to visit or call our Reference Department or to ask our librarians a question online.

Special Coverage Center Update: Stop Online Piracy Act (SOPA)

Learn more about the recently proposed SOPA act, issues it involves, and various perspectives on the proposition in our Special Coverage Center at www.thrall.org/special

Open Meetings & Public Documents www.thrall.org/pubdocs

As per the recent New York State law, Thrall provides free access to meeting-related documents, such as agendas, minutes, and other related information at the above website.

Two Great New Online Services Available to Members of Thrall!

1. Testing & Education Reference Center helps you prepare for exams, high school and college tests, financial aid applications, graduate school exams, resume writing, and career choices. In addition to over 300 practice tests and courses, you can take practice tests for GED, AP, CLEP, ACT, GRE, LSAT, PSAT, SAT, MCAT, TOEFL (among many others), search for scholarships, explore universities, consider career moves, and much more.

2. Chilton Library (which takes the place of our Auto Repair Reference Center subscription) provides maintenance, repair, and service information on vehicles, including cars, trucks, vans, and SUVs (domestic and foreign). Also included: diagnostic trouble codes, step-by-step diagrams, troubleshooting guides, specifications, videos and animations of procedures and system operations, close-up photographs and illustrations, and a "parts finder" integrated with eBay Motors. This database is updated monthly!

Access either free service through our Databases page:

- from any of our public Internet or research workstations
- or through our home page (via the Databases menu)
- by going to www.thrall.org/databases and clicking on either Online Learning or Auto Repair.

When outside the library, you must log into each of these databases with the number on your Thrall Library card.
